Father Maline Celebrates 50 Years as Jesuit

50 years is a lot of time. To some it is nothing more. Only time.

But to a remarkable few, it is kind words rendered and high ideals realized—wisdom gained and given. They are years filled with honor for God.

Behold how greatness walks among us!

INDEX 158

In this world there are big people and there are little people. The big people bear enormous problems and seek exotic pleasures. The little people have only fleeting predicaments and simple joys. Little people are called innocent.

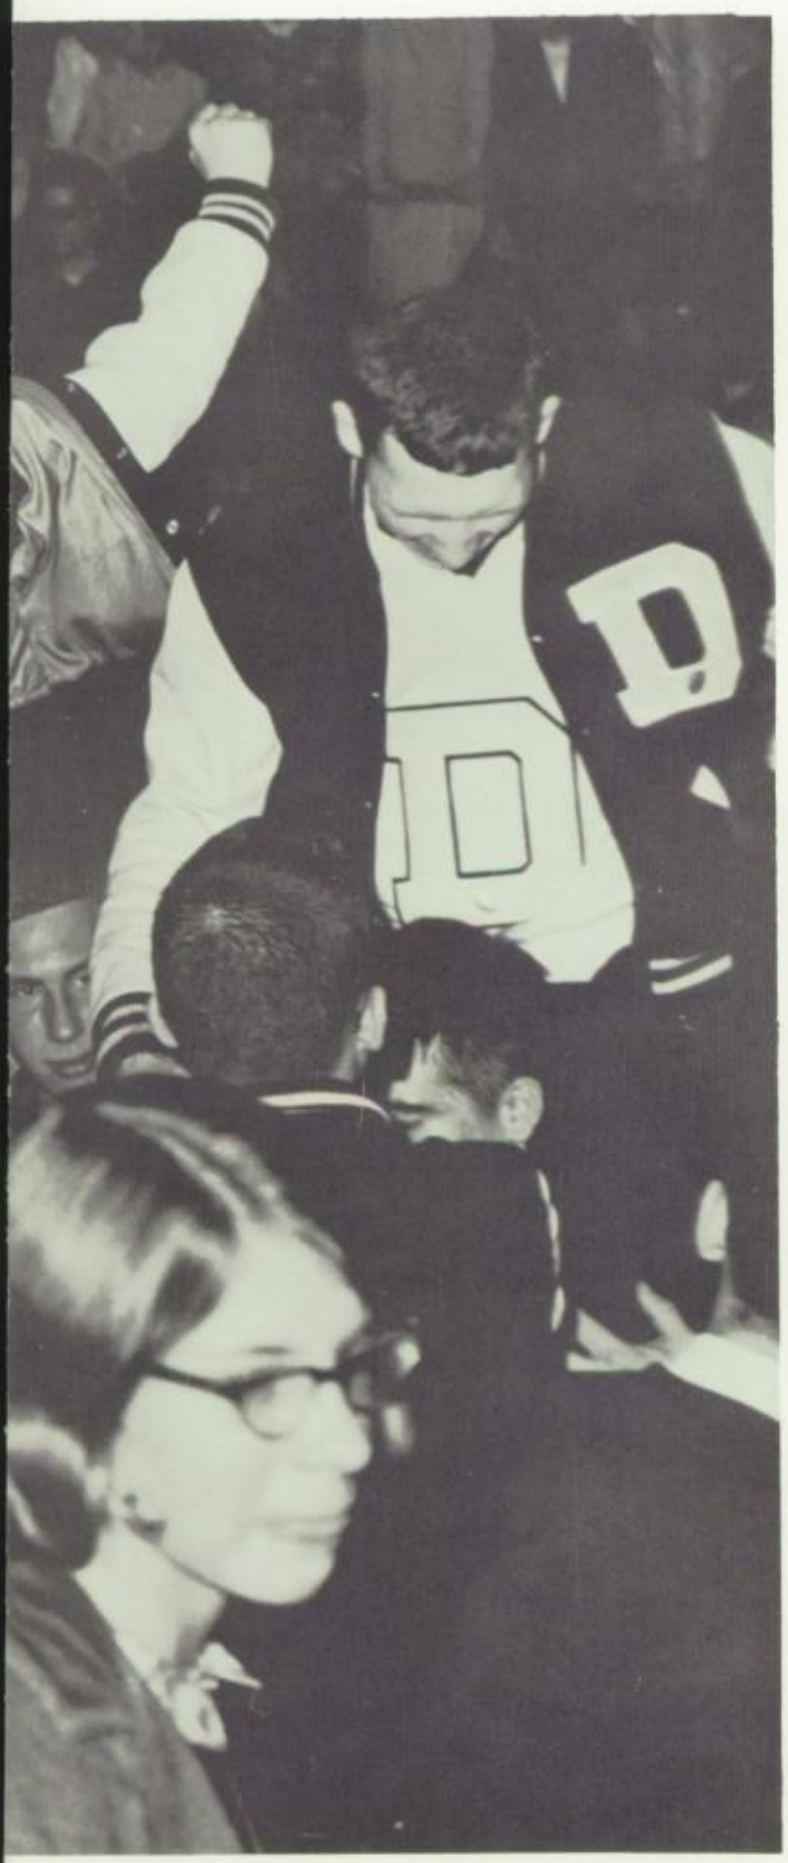
Excitement

Bill Farmer



We are little people who are growing bigger. To us our problems are vast and impressive, and once simple joys take on an awkward sophistication. But ripened by experience, the awkwardness shall pass. We are trained in a milieu where mistakes can not harm — only teach. Our concerns are less weighty and more trivial than those of our adult counterparts. But they are our own. The deeds of our small world heroes seldom blaze into headlines. But as our heroes, Oh how we love them!

Tom Kavanagh, Mr. Semeraro, S.J.

Bob Lorenz

U of D. HIGH

Joe Check

"The Sodality is more than just another extra-curricular organization. It is a way of life. The two-fold purpose of the Sodality is self-sanctification and the sanctification of others. The Sodalist accomplishes this dual task by personal, daily, spiritual exercises and by different social apostolates."

Mr. Canfield, S.J.

Moderator, Senior Sodality

STUDENT SENATE

RESPONSIBILITIES BECKON

"The Student Senate serves as the coordinating body between the faculty and the student body. Composed of representatives from all the classes and activities, it sponsors sock hops, rallies, semi-formal dances, and handles any other function for which its services are required. Funds gained from activities which we sponsor are often used to subsidize of other groups in the school."

RESOUNDING

RHYTHM

Jerome Maynard

"The band, as does every activity in the school, has two purposes. Its fundamental aim is to give students musical training and to provide the satisfaction derived from successful performance. Once this has been done the more obvious objective may be pursued: the entertainment of the student body. Thus we give the half time entertainment at football games, the Christmas concert, and for a crowning glory, the spring concert."

FACTS WITH A FLAIR

CUB NEWS

"The U. of D. High news-magazine, the Cub News, is written by the student body and endeavors to mirror and comment on the activity of the school in its editorial, news, sports, and feature pages. The News staff receives training in practical journalism by developing from scratch their own award-winning newspaper."

Mr. Zombor, S.J. Moderator

Teamwork: Editor Bill Sobesky, Photographer, John Ewing.

DEBATE

The negative team of Bob Lorenz and Ed Kronk decide the value of one of their many quotes.

Bob Joseph reiterates on the main points of his argument.

Mr. Welsh, S.J. discovers a significant defect in our strategy by listening to a past debate on tape.

STATE-WIDE SUCCESS

"The aim of debate is training organized and orderly argumentation. The cases must be presented clearly and convincingly. Much effort is expended in searching out material and familiarizing themselves with the case. However the consistency of their success is evidence of their work's quality."

Mr. Welsh, S.J. Moderator

Bob Joseph explains some new data found on their affirmative case to Lyle Mehlenbacher.

Mehlenbacher unfolds a strong point in his plan of attack from a chart on the Medicare problem to Kronk, Lorenz, and Joseph.

"The Ad Guild is the Madison Avenue of U. of D. High. The activities of other school organizations receive publication from the UDAG, for highly attractive and properly motivating publicity is essential to their success."

"In striving for top quality, our men seek to display clarity, originality, dynamism and simplicity in their work. Needless to say, the production of consistent quality requires long hours in the 'Guild Hall' under the stairs."

FRENCH CLUB

"The key purpose of the club is to provide a practical situation in which the students may apply their French. They delve into the culture and civilization of a modern France — its music, sports, eating habits, teenage customs — and attempt to grasp the basis of French thought and attitudes, differentiating them from those of the 'Yanqui'."

SPANISH CLUB

"Modern languages are often classed in a loose linguistic group called the 'living' tongues. But nothing can kill a language faster than rote memorization, grammar exercises, and pronunciation drills.

"The Spanish Club breathes new life into the study of the language, exposing its role in an alive and vital culture. When possible, direct analysis of the culture is supplemented with experience. In this way, not only the tongue, but the heart and mind which motivate it are better understood."

Mr. Rodriguez Moderator

PEP CLUB

"The Pep Club is composed of students whose objective is to encourage, organize, and lead the spirit at U. of D. High. They initiate the cheers and handle the cheering section during the rallies and games."

Fr. Mandula, S.J., Gorski

Norris, Soller, Donahue

Evaluation: Gayney, Gembis

"The Bellarmine Academy provides an excellent opportunity for juniors and seniors to acquaint themselves with the best in music, painting, architecture, literature, and drama. We aim at an understanding of the principles behind them and then a familiarization with outstanding examples. We also furnish an occasion for group discussions involving our exposure to these works, and thereby enable our members to understand and deepen their sense of values in their appreciation of the fine things."

Fr. Mandula, S.J. Moderator

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Check, Ross, Gallagher, O'Brien, Meyers, Waldrop, Brezinski, Rose, Schervish, Mehlenbacher, Fr. Rice, S.J., Weiss, Joseph, Lorenz, Cowell, Montie.

"We have had a lot of exceptional men graduate from U. of D. High. Their accomplishments far surpass normalcy. But without the backing of a national organization, their achievements have not had the influence with colleges that they might and should have had. The National Honor Society has been chartered here to remedy this injustice. An organization of nationwide respect and influence, membership in it greatly enhances the transcript of a college applicant."

Fr. Rice, S.J. Moderator

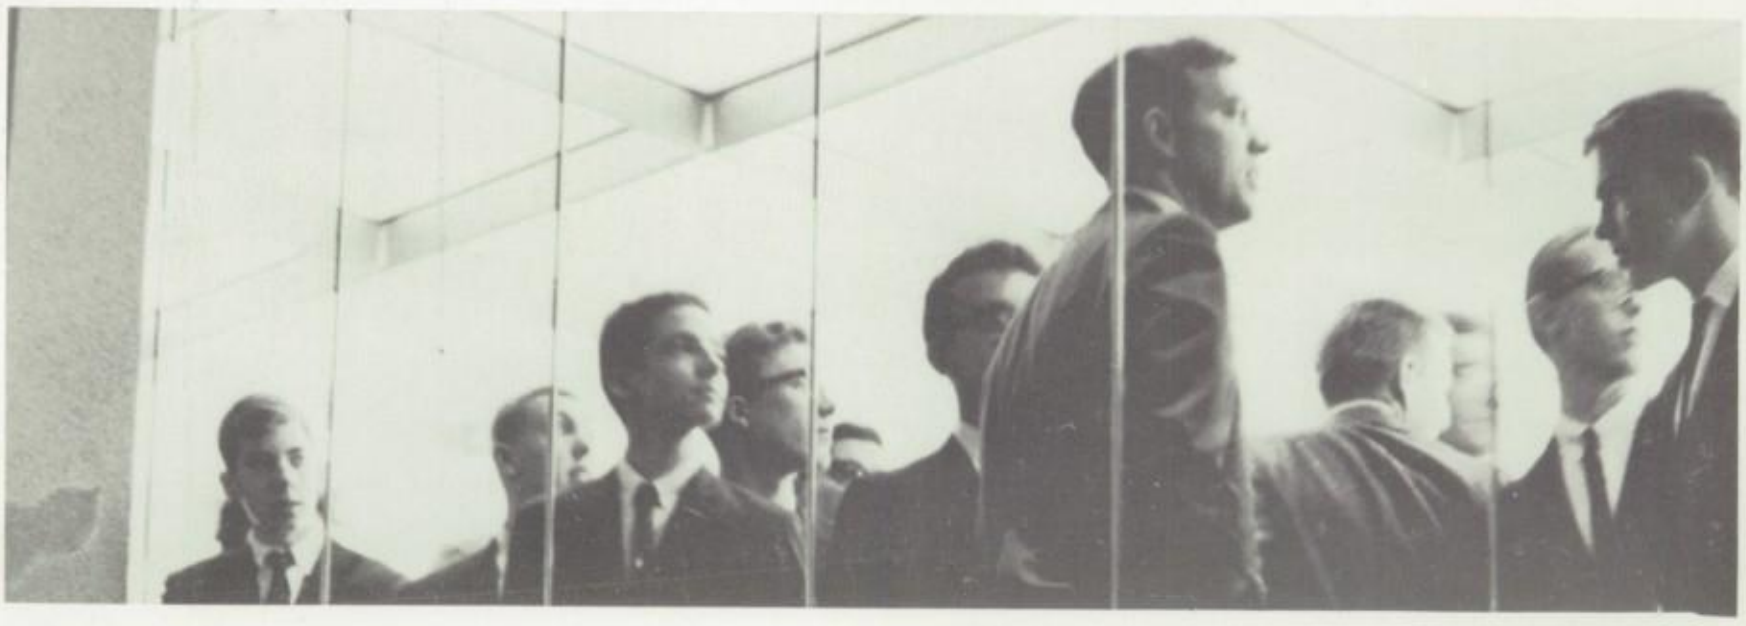
JETS

Larry Snapp muses over a guide's explanation.

Jets members congregate before their tour of the General Motors Tech. Center.

Chuck Kircher Jeff Mc Kenty



"Jets exists solely for the benefits of its members, and the degree in which they receive these benefits is entirely dependent upon the effort which these members are willing to expend.

"Our program of lectures, demonstrations, and tours have two key ends. First, the club provides a medium in which the science-minded student may increase his knowledge, and secondly, the members of the club are given a new insight to the power and beauty of God through scientific exploration."

The U. of D. High Harriers coached by Mr. John Tenbusch and paced by Captain Mike Boylan, all-city and all-state junior Paul Schmitt, frustrated all other league competition to win the Catholic League Championship for the third successive year. Third and fourth team members, Bob Scullin and Steve Karpus, all-city seniors, hustled with the '63 Thinclads to their first state regional championship. This gave the distance runners a berth in the state championship meet. Seniors Doug Soules and Bill Maledon competed all season for the fifth slot on the squad while promising sophomore John Carroll rounded out '63 Champs.

SURRENDERED SUNDAYS

The Cubs were handicapped throughout most of the season by injuries. The first ill-fated blow came before the season actually started with the loss of star quarterback, Chuck Gembis. That was just a starter. During the rest of the season, eight first string men missed games because of injuries.

But was the Cubs' season such a failure? Did the Cubs play as poorly as their record shows? Let's take a closer look at the Cubs defeats.

Notre Dame: Two quick touchdowns in the early moments of the game gave Notre Dame the margin of victory. Although the Cubs put out less than expected in the first half, they dominated play in the second half of the game, scoring one touchdown and threatening another, keeping the ball three-fourths of the time.

De La Salle: In the first half the Cubs played their poorest ever. At halftime they were on the wrong end of a 27-0 calamity. The Cubs regained their composure in the second half stopping De La Salle and starting several drives towards the endzone, but they never quite made it in.

Salesian: Breaks — the Cub eleven saw enough of these, but for the wrong team. After a Salesian T.D., moments after the kickoff, U.D. battled back to tie the score. Then late in the last quarter, just when it looked as though U.D. would have to settle for a tie, Salesian picked off an errant pass, and took the ball in for the winning score.

C.C.: Representing U. of D. High against C.C. was a group of men who wanted to win this game, and they wanted to win it more than anything. They showed this desire by out-hustling C.C. every step of the way. Even though U. D. scored first, C.C.'s long passes were the big factor in a bad day for the Cubs.

After every game, you could always hear, "If only the ref saw it" or "If only he wasn't hurt." The only way to win a football game is to make sure there are no ifs, no doubts: to completely out-play the other team.

This season the Cubs learned much about football and much about life. They learned how to pick themselves up and fight back; they learned to be justly proud of their efforts even though others weren't. They learned how to do something they will have to do many times during their lives: to accept defeat.

RESERVES

While compiling only a 3-4 record, the Cub Reserves displayed much varsity material in their offensive and defensive backfield. Strong stand-outs in the backfield were Pat Cleary, Pat Davis, and Greg Leist. The out-standing line of Jeff Hurlbert, Mark Velat, John Krieg, and Walt Vashak gave hope for a bright future. The highlight of the reserve season was a hard-fought 15-13 victory over Catholic Central. The Reserves were well coached by Mr. Daniel Comer and Mr. Joseph Rodriguez. The U. of D. High Varsity can certainly look forward to receiving some topnotch players from the '63 Cub J.V's.

LITTLE CUBS CLAIM SUCCESS

FRESHMEN

The freshmen this year have really given U. of D. High something to look forward to three years from now. Our little Cubs, averaging 185 lbs., were beaten only twice. One defeat came at the hands of Notre Dame 40-6 and the other was a see-saw battle which Redford St. Mary pulled in 7-6. After a victorious C.C. game, coaches Arrowsmith and Whitford were thrown into the showers by an exuberant Frosh team. The season ended in a 20-20 deadlock with Cathedral. When the final whistle blew the Cubs were on Cathedral's one-half yard line.

It was a happy time. A time of excited expectation, ear-splitting claps, gleeful cheers. Even the flaming-red-shirts of victory couldn't hide the swelling savor of every heart, the over-smiling bliss of every face. It was our team, our game, our time. Our time for victory, for triumph. No one could doubt it. No one wanted to. For anyone who has seen "Duggie" snap the ball to "Griff" in the corner doubts no more. It was a wide-awake team, quick to sense the right time for the right move.

Calihan, hooping from the outside; Conway, soaring up for the rebound; Goode, thieving in the press; Rahaim, sprinting to the ball — these are the sights that thrilled the joyous fans; hoarse-throated in the stands.

There were times when "on the spot" decisions were needed. And all looked to one man — the man who has worked with the wizards for two years, Mr. Daniel Comer. This is the man who through sheer persistence revised those past "not quite" to the present "all the way".

It was a time, a year, a team that will live on as the "first". And we suspect the first of many.

RESERVES

Injury-ridden, but spirit-filled, the Reserve Cubs showed promise as contenders for the future Central Division Crown. A determined defense, and a bold, crowd-pleasing spirit, they defeated almost every team they faced. Their only losses were suffered at the hands of Austin and DeLasalle.

All scoring was led by Pat Davis, averaging better than 20 points a game: and if Pat was "off" you could be sure that their towering center Ed Petersmarck would bring down the rebound. These two ably supported by Mike Naylon, Andy Szombati, and Jerry Sheehan, the Reserves represented their school to the best of their ability, and proved to be a rough team to beat.

SWIMMING

SUITED FOR VICTORY

Sweat pants and tennis shoes seem a strange garb for a swimming team. But long before the final meet, the Cub Tankers swam over the gym floor to develop backstroker arms and breaststroker legs.

The extent of this development is evident in the ability of men like captains Cleary and Blackwell, and the sterling performances of Denny D erda, Ron Widlak, Tom Shumaker, Glen Konkle, Tim Sullivan, Tom Duffield, and Bob Bauser. So when the chips are down and their spirits are up, the men of U. of D. High swimming team can be given nothing but praise.

TENNIS

NETSIDE STORY

When this spring rolls around, a small group of U. of D. High men will have their minds on a different kind of love. Their love will be that of booming serves, graceful forehand and backhand drives, and the skill and strategy of tennis.

The shout of joy after winning a tough match, and the cry of frustration after losing a point — all are a part of the colorful game. It is the hope of the team that their rackets will sing out the tune of success for this season. So with undaunted eagerness, this year's team will set out to make their mark on the rest of the league.

BASEBALL

CRACK OF THE BAT

The sun crosses the equator on its journey north and then, say the experts, it is spring.

But in the minds of baseball sons everywhere, there is another moment. A certain feeling is in the air. Soon the crack of the bat and the roar of the crowd will fill the air. The man dressed in blue barks out the familiar cry, "Play ball!" A lone figure on the mound grasps the slick new ball and winds and delivers . . .

It is the first pitch of the season. Spring has arrived!

This year's squad will be captained by Tom Kavanagh, an outstanding receiver with a rifle arm; and Jim Rose, a sparkling fielder and fine hitter. Three year veteran Gerry Wisne looms as a tower of strength at first base. The team will rely on the talented arms of aces Dan Jakary, Terry Griffin and Ken Eichhornwho comprise the pitching staff.

Mr. Ron Wiktor has high hopes of fashioning a spirited group of ballplayers — intent on reaching Tiger Stadium and the championship!

LINKSMEN DRIVE FOR TITLE

Cub golfers placed second in Detroit and ninth in Michigan during the 1963 season. They are aiming even higher this year. The team will face its usual top-flight schedule in 1964. Despite the loss of three veteran seniors, the Cubs have eight returning lettermen, led by co-captains Mike Cooney and Ed Gray.

The experienced squad will include seniors Mike Horlick and Dennis McLain, juniors Rick Freehan and Frank Cernak, and sophomores Pete Ewing and Greg Purcott. Guiding the golf team for the second year is Fr. John W. Lasca, S.J.

VARSITY TRACK

June, 1964 a date marked for revenge. June, 1963 was a fresh, cheerful day, perfect for a picnic or a refreshing swim. But, on the dusty Pershing High School track, the frustrated U. of D. High Cubs stumbled disappointedly out of the championship circle.

Crowded around that powdery-gray oval, U. of D. students watched dismayed as a surprise ruling hampered the team from the outset and as bad breaks struck suddenly and devastatingly.

This year's Tenbusch Terrors still consider themselves the champs of the Catholic league and will return to that dusty Pershing track this June with the intention of reclaiming their title.

The Cub pack will be led by tri-captains Bob Glamb, Lyle Mehlenbacher, and Doug Soules.

Making opponents eat the dusty cinders in the sprints will be lettermen Walt Duda and Lyle Mehlenbacher. School record-holder Bob Stier will skim the hurdles, and Bernie Mahalak and Mike Alandt plan to battle between themselves for honors in the one lap events.

Trese Nixon

Molloy Minbiole Gant

Members of the city-championship cross-country team should be able to pound the opposition as they pound around the track in the grueling distance events. Leading the harriers will be all-stater Paul Schmidt, all-city aces Mike Boylan, Bob Scullin, and Steve Karpus, and Bill Maledon.

Vaulting past the eleven-foot barrier, putting the iron sphere into orbit, and lengthening the broad-jump record are the goals of Bob Glamb, Mike Trese, Pat Nixon, and Tom Rozman respectively.

Hard training and the coaching of Mr. John Tenbusch should enable these men, and other terrors not mentioned here, to tear out onto the track this June and tear the championship from the grasp of the title defenders.

RESERVES

In the past, Mr. Frank Canfield, S.J., has molded virgin talent into excellent track teams. This year three factors—hard work, an abundance of spirit, and great talent—will be the weapons behind the 1964 reserves.

The majority of last year's Freshman team will be back to help U. of D. keep the J. V. title. Several of the outstanding members of the squad are John Rock and MarkBirkamin the sprints, John Carroll and Paul Daoust in the distance, John Pasternak in the pole vault, and Paul Mueller in the high jump. Home is where your heart is.

In adolescence, however, the heart has a tendency to wander. At U of D High, the Mothers' and Dads' Clubs work with the school to insure that the hearts of their charges return from their wanderings stronger, surer, and more secure in truth.

Both clubs give the parents a chance to meet with the faculty, and to co-ordinate the roles of parents and mentors in the growth of a U of D High man. In addition, social events held at the school let the parents discover in a general way the attitudes and atmospheres which envelope their son.

Thus the Dads' Club's Fund Drive, the Mothers' Gala Nite and the host of other gatherings which they sponsor act as a strong link between adult and youthful interests, and serve to make U of D High not just an extension of the home, but an integral part of it.

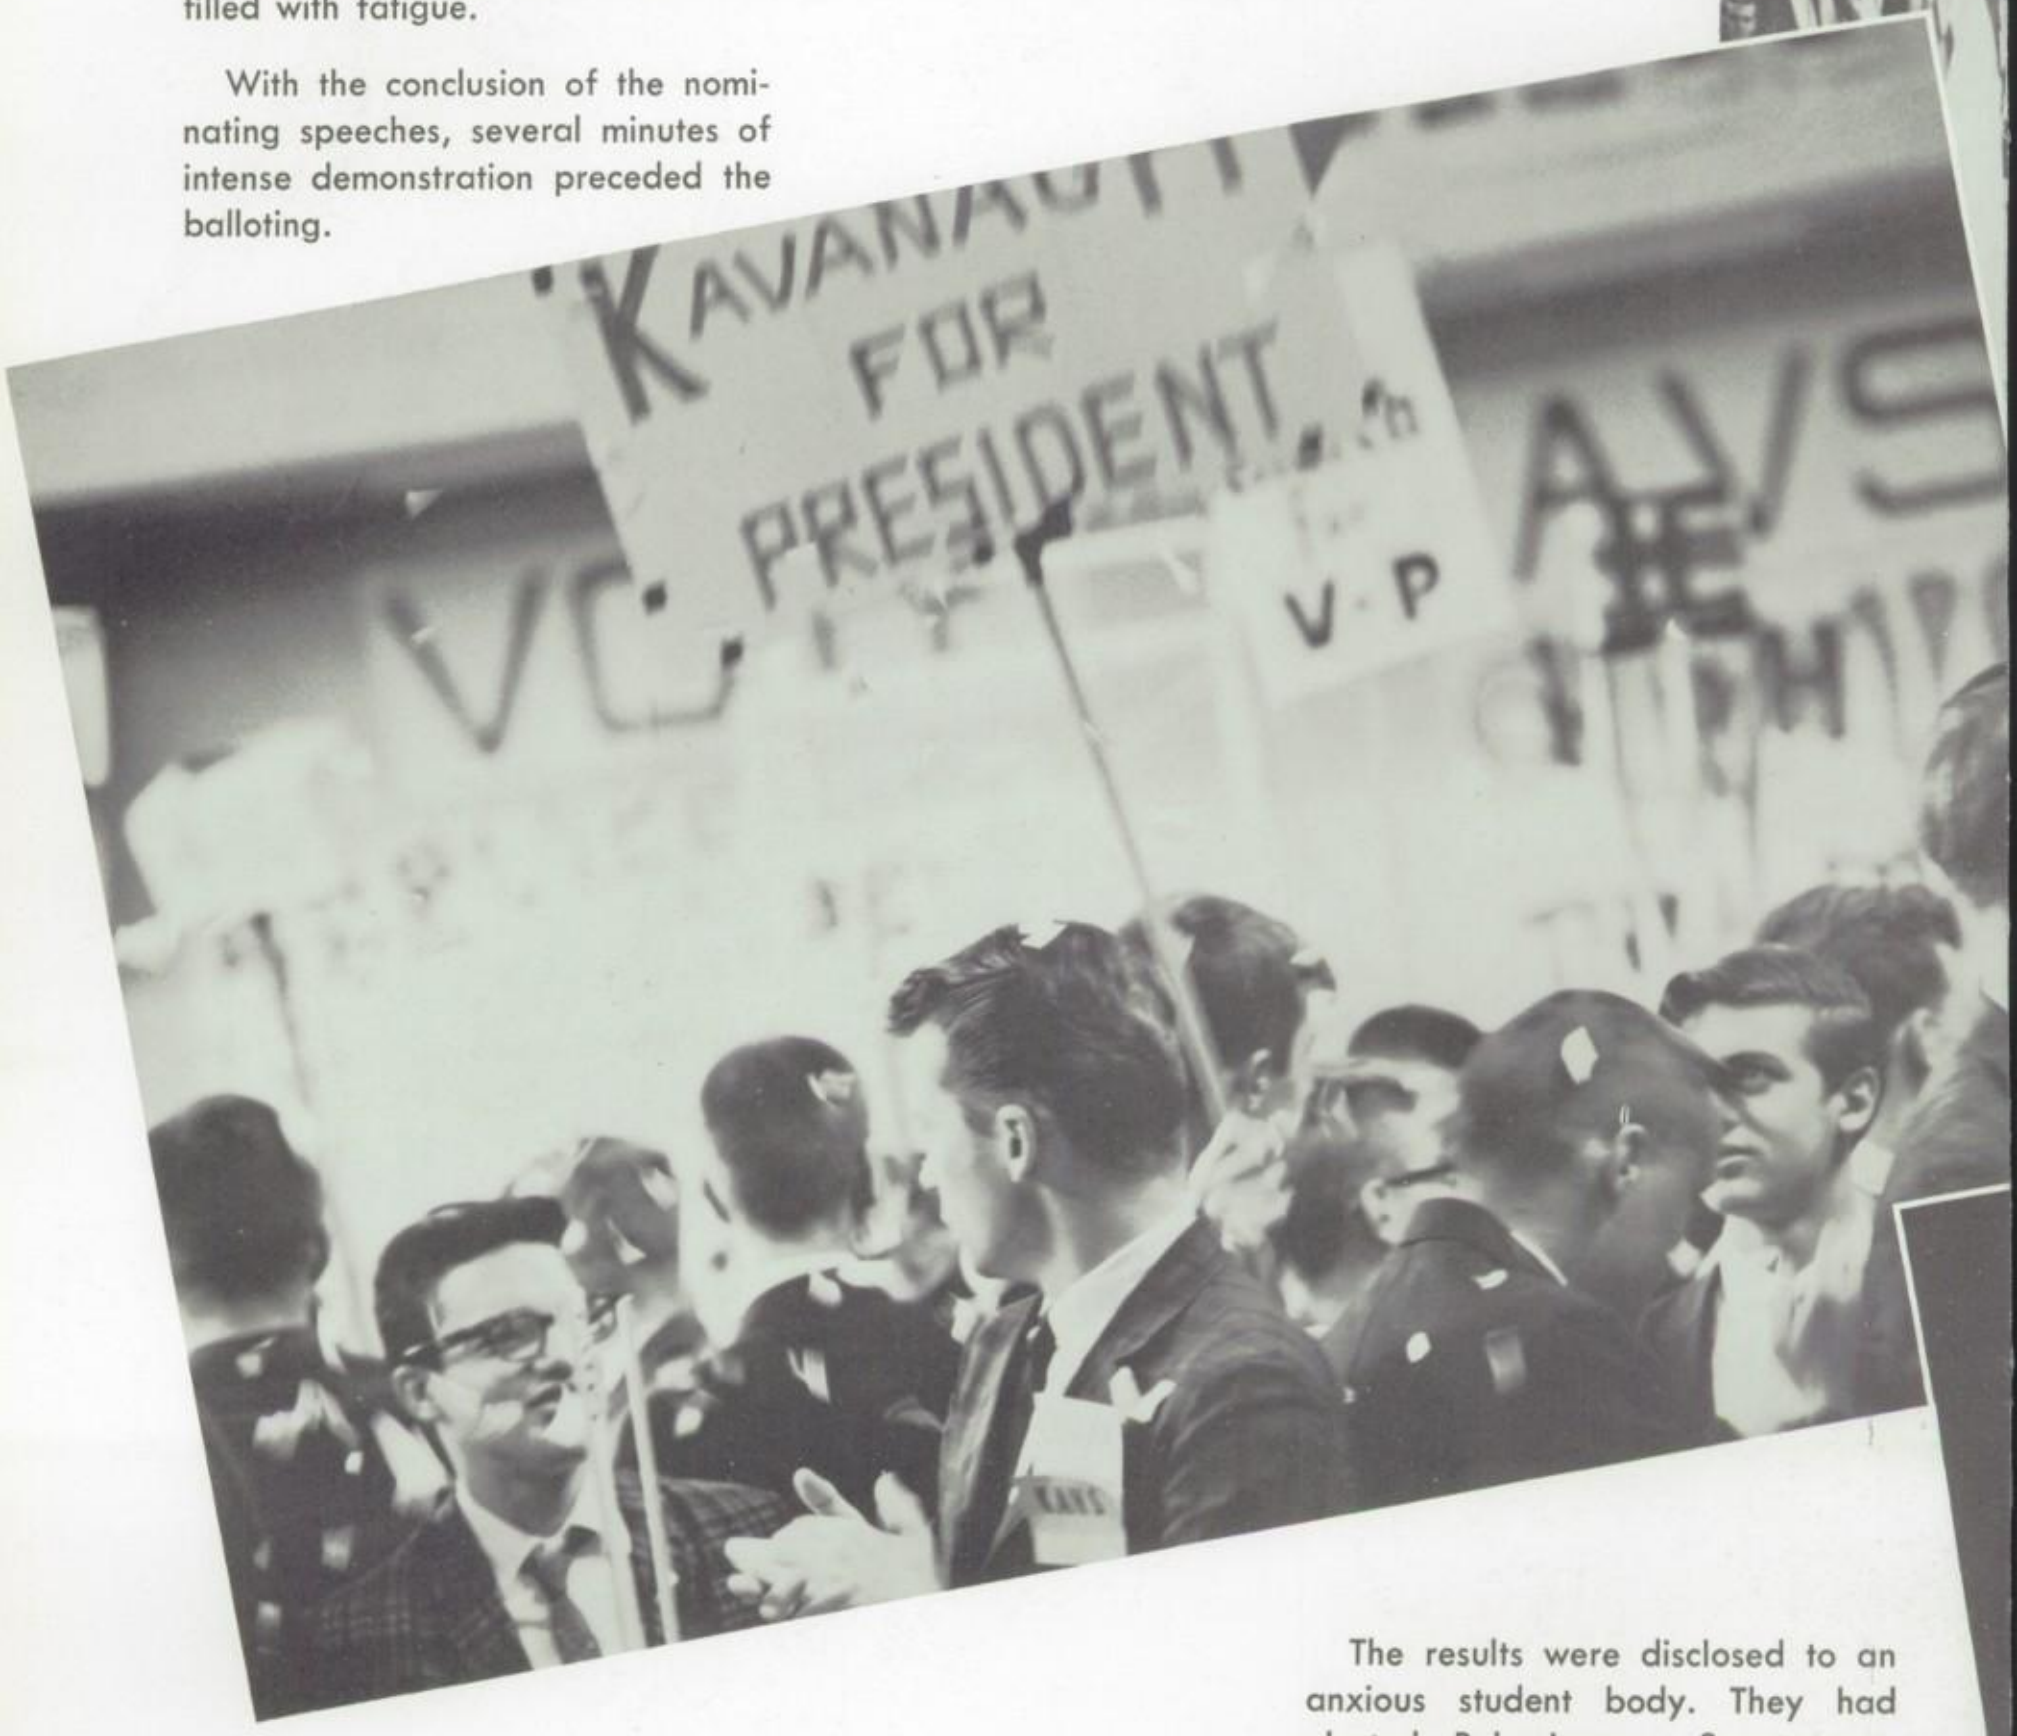
CONVENTION

Seven days of frenzied campaigning were culminated in the annual Student Senate Convention on May 10, 1963. The gym was covered with banners and filled with students; the students were covered with handbills and filled with excitement; the candidates were covered with hope and filled with fatigue.

With the conclusion of the nominating speeches, several minutes of intense demonstration preceded the balloting.

Tom Kavanagh accepts the gavel of the Student Senate.



The results were disclosed to an anxious student body. They had elected Bob Lorenz, Sergeant-at-Arms; Bill Duggan, Treasurer; Jim Norris, Secretary; Al Church, Vice-President; and Tom Kavanagh, President.

HOMECOMING

AN EVIDENT SPIRIT

October 6, 1963 saw the Cubs clash with the Salesian Knights to climax the annual homecoming festivities. A record number of cars and floats were entered in the parade, including a rare freshman entry. Their quality could only be equalled by the beauty of the queen and her court. Queen Tina MacLeod of Immaculata reigned with her court of Mary Jo Ashley, Immaculata; Jane Stimson, Mercy; Jan Erdman, Mercy; and Chris Peters, Mercy. The day ended in defeat on the field, but the spirit and pride of U of D wereproven unconquerable.

All hail the Queen!

DANCES

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Tom Kotz and his date, Judy Hogan, take the helm at Gala Nite.

The basketballs are put away, the bleachers are pushed back, but the noise remains. This is a U of D sock hop. A thousand bodies twist and stomp their message on the hardwood.

In contrast to the casual atmosphere of the sockhops, semi-formal dances are held periodically throughout the year. The bands replace the records, the sport coats and dresses replace the casual attire of the sock hop, and the elaborate decorations enliven the drab atmosphere of the gym.

The U of D dealers go into action.

Another sock-hop gives boy-starved girls a chance to socialize.

Hank Warren and the boys wail for a time.

Fr. McAuley, S.J. addresses the student body at a pre-game pep rally.

SPIRIT

The cheering block of U of D relaxes on the verge of another victory.

In its long history U of D has accomplished much in its athletic and academic endeavors. Occasionally U of D is defeated in both. The spirit of U of D, however, has never been equalled. Whatever U of D has accomplished is due to its tremendous spirit. This spirit is a reflection of our pride in the school, and it permeates everything we do — from a Saturday jug to the Holly Hop. Spirit is the only thing common to every member of the student body. It unites the student body and it is exhibited on the football field, basketball court, and more noticeably in the stands. This year once again U of D has attained academic and athletic heights; this year U of D has suffered an occasional setback in both; but this year, as in the past, the spirit of U of D High has never been topped.

THE RED ROAR

The Pep Club directs the tide of student spirit before the C.C. game.

RETREATS

The student body pursues a rigorous schedule. For this reason, every U of D High student takes time out early in the year to organize and re-evaluate himself. He is removed from his daily routine of chaos and is placed in an atmosphere of prayer and tranquility. These three days give the student a chance to straighten himself out in this world, and realign his will to God's.

Since they are on the threshold of manhood, the seniors are given the opportunity to make a closed retreat at Manresa in Bloomfield Hills, at Saginaw, or at Oxley in Canada.

The underclassmen who do not make closed retreats are required to make an open retreat at school. Although they lack all the advantages of a closed retreat, they can be a prodigious lift to the student.

Jerry Delaney converses with retreat master Father Cavanaugh, S.J.

The solitude of his room gives Tim Stone an opportunity to do some spiritual reading.

Bob King, Chuck Gayney, and Chuck Johnson start the day off with a good breakfast.

Jack Donahue relaxes in the tranquil atmosphere of Manresa Retreat House.

Bob Belknap pauses at Manresa.

You have viewed our world,

but it sha'n't be ours for long,

for soon we shall advance to a world of the big.

And for us,

there is nothing that will ever quite replace

being little people

with little problems

and simple joys.
